

Article Link

<http://www.economist.com/news/finance-and-economics/21587226-cattle-may-be-terr...>

Dean Karlan research in The Economist

This week's issue of The Economist features research by IPA founder and President Dean Karlan on why poor people in India would own cows, which turn out to be so expensive to maintain that they lose money. The piece compares it to commitment savings, a strategy people can use to keep their money tied up and out of reach. Read the full article here.

October 04, 2013