

Article Link

<https://amp.economist.com/middle-east-and-africa/2019/11/23/unconditional-hando...>

The Economist Features Results of IPA Study on GiveDirectly's Cash Grant Program in Kenya

The Economist writes on the broader impact of cash transfers, citing an IPA study of GiveDirectly's program in rural Kenya where unconditional cash grants raised consumption—both for the households who received them and their neighbors— and also raised wages and local GDP.

November 22, 2019