

Article Link

<https://www.economist.com/international/2020/06/18/covid-19-raises-the-risks-of...>

The Economist Cites Findings on COVID-19 in Rohingya Refugee Camps

In a piece discussing COVID-19 and the risks of violent conflict, The Economist cites IPA research with Mushfiq Mobarak, C. Austin Davis, and Paula Lopez Peña in the Cox's Bazar region of Bangladesh, which found that COVID-19 symptoms were prevalent among Rohingya refugees. More information about the study is available here.

June 29, 2020